Glades to receive special exhibit in new Bink Glisson Museum

Western communities of Palm Beach County, including Belle Glade, South Bay and Pahokee, will occupy a special area inside the new Bink Glisson Historical Museum. Construction on the new historical museum will begin in May at the South Florida Fairgrounds Yesteryear Village. The announcement was made during a luncheon hosted by Ken Foster, chairman of the Palm Beach County Board of Commissioners on Wednesday, April 12, at the Glades Sugar House in Belle Glade.

Chairman of the Bink Glisson Historical Preservation Trust, Inc., Ken Adams, in making the announcement, told of how Bink, as a young boy, settled with his family on Torrey Island in 1925. "Bink grew up in the Glades," said Mr. Adams. "He made a lot of friends here and has, during all his 81 years, fought long and hard for the Glades on many, many occasions both politically and as a business entrepreneur."

Mr. Adams said, "When Bink donated his collection of South Florida artifacts estimated to be worth in excess of $200,000 to the Museum Trust for display in the museum, he made only one stipulation and that was that there should be a space inside the museum dedicated to the history of the Glades and its people." Mr. Adams added, "Members of the museum board enthusiastically endorsed Bink's request."

The special exhibit dedicated to the western communities, will be thoroughly researched prior to installation, according to the museum's Executive Director, Gary MacPherson. "Not only will we tell the history of the Glades area and its people through historical artifacts," he said, "but we will also tell the story of today's Glades area through a special audiovisual series. Pahokee commissioners seek re-election May 2

Tammy Jackson
Staff Reporter

Registered voters in the City of Pahokee will venture to the Pahokee Fire Department May 2 and elect two city commissioners. Incumbents John C. Norman and Roy Singletary are both seeking to retain their seats.

Commissioner Singletary has retained his commission seat in Group 1 for approximately 10 years having been unopposed. However, this term, the commissioner will have to defeat Stanleigh J. Russ for the seat.

Comm. Singletary said he will run a "totally" clean campaign which will focus on the positive things that are happening in the city.

He said he is seeking reelection because he is interested in the growth of the city.

"I am going to let my record speak for itself," said Comm. Singletary.

The commissioner also said Mr. Russ is a friend of his and he has known him for approximately 35 years.

"Any registered voter is eligible to run for election - I guess it's just something he wanted to do," said Comm. Singletary.

Comm. Singletary is 60 years old and has been a resident of the Glades since 1945. He said he is excited about the juvenile facility coming to the Pahokee area, and he is interested in bringing industry to Pahokee. The commissioner said he is also in favor of expanding the campground when funding is available.

The commissioner is a self-employed television repairman. He is married to Elsie Singletary.

Vice Mayor Norman will have to defeat Robert Alvis Davis in order to retain his seat on the commission.

ing the Group 2 commission seat and he too said, "I am going to concentrate on what we're (the commission) presently doing and I will let my record speak for itself."

First elected to the commission in 1985, Mr. Norman said, "I am seeking re-election to continue working for the benefit of the people of Pahokee." The commissioner said he played an active role in locating the new juvenile facility in the Pahokee area. He said the facility will bring the much needed jobs to the area, thus bringing the much needed revenue along with it.

According to the 38-year-old commissioner, he will go door-to-door campaigning. He said he will also hand out political information to the voters and he will be available to discuss concerns with them.

Mr. Norman is a 15-year employee with Everglades Regional Medical Center where he is a chemistry supervisor in the hospital lab. He and his wife, Debbie, have a 3-year-old son.

Mr. Davis has previously served on the Pahokee commission. His last attempt in politics came last year when he went up against Pahokee Mayor Ramon Horta but was defeated.

The election will be held May 2 at the Pahokee Fire Department. According to Pahokee City Clerk Debbie Palmer, the polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Glades Day students pledge not to drink on prom night

By Brenda Bunting

Editor

Positive peer pressure was applied at Glades Day School last Thursday to encourage students to forgo drugs and alcohol on prom night, May 5.

According to teacher Barbara Scruggs, between 85 and 90 percent of the senior class signed a pledge called "Prom Promise" during an assembly last Thursday.

She cited statistics to the students before asking them to make the pledge, saying reports show that nationally, statistics say that 35 percent of the students have had five drinks in a row in the past two weeks. "We want to help change that. This is about positive peer pressure," she told them. "We're asking that you not drink or use drugs on prom night."

Incentive for the pledge included a card from Nationwide Insurance that gives each student discounts on various products and a chance to win a cruise and up to $3,000 for their school.

Senior Jeff Goodale signed the Prom Promise, but said he was already committed to not drinking or using drugs. "It didn't change what I already planned to do," he said.

The National Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependence, Inc. reports alcohol contributes to about 6 million non-fatal and 15,000 fatal injuries at home, at play or in public places.

Motivational speaker Denny Holzhauer also spoke to the students before they made pledges about some of his life experiences, including his commitment to Christ.

Mr. Holzhauer was the WKC lightweight World Karate champion in 1973, '74, '76, and '83. He has a 7th Degree Black Belt pro record of 32 wins with no losses and 27 of his wins were by knockout. He has held six world titles in karate and kickboxing.

Mr. Holzhauer has spoken in over 600 prisons and 1,000 schools in the past 10 years and has done mission work in Africa, Japan, Germany, France, Mexico, Cuba, Taiwan, the Philippines, Puerto Rico, Australia and Thailand.

He has been a national speaker for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for the past 18 years and is the director and host of a martial arts movie/documentary called "Fight the Good Fight."

Researchers trying to learn more about the strongest storm on earth

By Mike Lyons

"Sunshine is delicious, rain is refreshing, wind braces up, snow is exhilarating. There is no such thing as bad weather, only different kinds of good weather."

Those words are from English author John Ruskin. Mr. Ruskin was an art critic, a champion of socialism, obviously an optimist and a man, I would wager, who never saw a tornado.

A tornado is the strongest storm on earth and one of nature's most terrifying events. Just ask anyone who has been face to face with one.

Each year more tornadoes develop in the United States than in any other country. In 1993, over 1,200 tornadoes were confirmed. Yet, despite their frequency, there's still a lot we don't know about tornadoes.

Consider the winds generated by a tornado may top 300 mph. I say "may" because large tornadoes have this bad habit of destroying everything, including the wind measuring instruments, as they move through an area. Researchers have never gotten an accurate reading of the winds in a big twister.

It is not because we haven't tried. A few years ago a group of students at the University of Oklahoma undertook an ambitious study to determine how strong the winds are inside a big tornado.

Each morning during April and May, tornado season in Oklahoma, the students would pore over weather maps trying to figure out where a tornado might develop later in the day. Then, when a tornado was sighted, the young researchers would drive toward the twister.

When they were about one mile away from the storm, the students would remove from the back of their car a round, armor-plated object. Resembling a garbage can and nicknamed TOTO, after the dog in the Wizard of Oz, the contraption was loaded with all sorts of weather instruments. The students hoped to place TOTO directly in the path of the tornado. Then, if the device wasn't destroyed, they planned on retrieving the recorded weather data.

How did they do? While they were never successful in placing TOTO in front of a huge tornado, the students were able to measure wind speeds of just over 200 mph in several twisters. They also took some of the most remarkable photographs of tornadoes ever recorded.

Thankfully, tornadoes with wind of 200 mph are very rare in Florida. While we do experience a lot of tornadoes (86 in 1993), most of them are weak and short-lived. Typically, the winds in a Florida tornado are around 100 mph.

Occasionally, we'll experience a storm system that produces multiple tornadoes. Remember the "Storm of the Century" of March, 1993? In an eight hour period, 50 tornadoes rumbled across the state, claiming 27 lives and causing millions of dollars in damage.

More common, however, is the lone tornado that develops from our afternoon thunderstorms. Even though this tornado is small, it is still dangerous. Its 100 mph winds can cause considerable damage. To make matters worse, smaller tornadoes are harder to detect. Many Florida twisters are masked by our heavy rains.

New technology is helping, though. Readers recently installed by the National Weather Service will help spot these hidden tornadoes. That new satellite launched recently will make it easier to predict where tornadoes may develop.

The more we learn about tornadoes the more we respect and fear them. If Mr. Ruskin had ever seen one I'm sure he would agree.

Mike Lyons is the weatherman for WPBF, Channel 25.

One of my pet peeves in nursing over the past 24 years is inconsiderate visitors. Many hospitals have strict visitation policies that no one, not even the President, could break. In some smaller hospitals the visitation policies are not nearly as stringent, and the public takes full advantage.

Having visitors can really lift a patient's spirits and even hasten their recovery. But there are times when visitors can do more harm than good. Asking visitors to leave is perfectly acceptable if they are endangering the patient's condition. Some visitors become emotional, even hysterical, when they see their loved one hooked up to a ventilator or other equipment. Their reactions can frighten the patient, causing him to fight the equipment. In cases like this, the visitors should leave the bedside until they can control their emotions.

Many times patients have not had the heart to ask their visitors to leave even when that don't feel well. If the visitors seem to be interfering with the patient's rest, they should take that into consideration. Also visitors must realize that they should not interfere with the nurse's duties or the doctor's visits.

One other important area to consider is an infection from a family member. The patient is exposed to enough contagions in the hospital. The last thing he or she needs is an infection from a family member or friend. The obviously ill visitor should consider the welfare of the patient and possibly wait to visit at a later date or do a phone visit.

One final concern is that of the roommate. Few people are in the position financially to afford private rooms, therefore they acquire roommates. This is the time when we need to think about the golden rule, do unto others, etc. If visitors become loud or disruptive, then they should leave. A hospital is a place for sick people to get well, not for noisy parties and inappropriate behaviors. Nurses must remain fair and are usually acting with the patient's best interest at heart, which is hard to argue against. Everyone needs to work together for the good of the patient and do what they can to expedite their recovery. The next time you are a visitor, try thinking about the patient's well being first.

Until next time . . . stay informed and stay healthy.

Lake Shore seeks donations for students to go to London and Paris

Lake Shore Middle School is seeking donations from the community for some of the students to go to London and Paris.

The 1995 Incentive Trip to London and Paris is planned for June 20-28 for students who have maintained a 3.7 grade point average or above throughout the 1994-95 school year. The students must also score in the 85 percentile or better on the Comprehensive Test of Basic Skills (CTBS) to be eligible for the trip.

Approximately 10 to 12 students will participate in the trip and the school has held numerous fundraisers to raise the money.

However, according to Assistant Principal Helen Rutledge, they still need nearly $15,000 in order to make the trip.

Citizens who would like to help the deserving students are asked to mail donations to Lake Shore Middle School, attention Richard Ramsey, 1101 Martin Luther King Blvd., Belle Glade.

For more information on the trip, call Mr. Ramsey or Helen Rutledge, assistant principal, at 996-4960.

Bink Museum

each western community as well as companies will be offered the opportunity to air video tapes that will talk to investment opportunities in the western communities.

"Another great advantage of the large video screen within the Glades exhibit is, it will afford us the opportunity to play a video promoting the Lawrence Will Museum that Dr. Joseph Orenigo and others have worked so hard over the years to construct and preserve," said Mr. MacPherson.

"It is anticipated visitors to the Glisson Museum will want to make the short trip to Belle Glade to see in person another view of Glades history. So you see, not only will we exhibit the western communities in our museum, we will also be promoting visitations to the Lawrence Will Museum," he said.

Mr. MacPherson concluded, "We think it is a win, win situation for everyone."

One historical artifact which will be included in the western communities exhibit will be the only known school desk found and preserved (by Bink himself) from the Torry Island school after it was destroyed in the 1928 hurricane. Bink's mother was a teacher at the school just prior to 1928.

The desk will serve as the centerpiece for the Ollie Glisson (in honor of Bink's mother) Children's Education Classroom. The classroom will occupy one full wing of the museum.

Teachers can plan field trips to the museum for their students to not only view all of the artifacts, but also gather in the classroom to learn about south Florida's history in a historical school class room environment. A corporation may sponsor the classroom for $20,000 and individuals may donate $1,000 each to have their name inscribed on the back of one of the classroom desks.

In another wing of the museum, architects have designed an art gallery. The gallery will exhibit a selection of the over 150 original oil paintings also donated to the museum trust by Mr. Glisson. Each painting depicts a historical event in south Florida history. One of these paintings depicts the breaking away of the county muck dike during the 1928 hurricane in which 2,000 residents of the area were drowned.

Sponsorship of the art gallery as with the children's classroom is similar to the desk sponsorship. Prior to the opening of the museum, the gallery will be named in honor of the major financial contributor to the gallery.

A South Florida Pioneer's Wall of Recognition is also planned. Here individuals will be honored who have in the past or are presently contributing their time and energy for the betterment of the communities in which they live.

The museum building will provide 4,000 square feet of exhibit space and will be built as an exact replica of the Haile Plantation "Cracker" house. The land the museum will sit on (valued at $50,000) has been provided at no cost to the museum trust by the South Florida Fair and the Palm Beach County Exposition Inc. The location will be immediately adjacent to Yesteryear Village.

During an update on the museum building committee's progress to date, Mr. MacPherson announced that of the $400,000 required to build the museum, $280,000 has been raised to date. "We are on target," said Mr. MacPherson, "but we still require approximately $120,000 to reach our goal."

Mr. MacPherson also said that during the 1995 South Florida Fair, over 640,000 people visited the fair in only 17 days. The museum, planned for completion to coincide with the opening of the 1996 South Florida Fair, will be open on a year round basis.

Residents of the area who are members of the museum committee include Sue Teets, Marilyn Sims and Dale Morris.

People wishing to donate to the museum may contact the museum office in Wellington at (407) 795-3110, or through Sue Teets, Marilyn Sims or Dale Morris. All donations are tax deductible.

Guest Commentary

By Phyllis Lilley
Belle Glade Municipal Librarian

April marks many milestones for libraries, librarians and readers. April 2 was Children's Book Day. April 9 was National Library Week. April 12 was Thank You School Librarian Day and the next day, April 13, was Librarian Day. This week is Reading is Fun Week.

A goal of the Glades libraries (Belle Glade branch, Pahokee branch and the South Bay branch) is to make life-long readers of even our youngest patrons.

Here are some tips for you to help make that your goal also.

Read to Me!!

One of the most important things parents can do for their child is to instill the love of reading in them. There is no age too young for a parent to sit down with their child and read aloud to them. As you read to your baby, your child is forming an association between books and your voice. Allowing babies to handle books (cloth and board books are good at this age) deepens the attachment even more.

Read aloud to your child every day. From birth to 6 months your baby probably won't understand what you're reading, but that's okay. You can get her used to the sound of your voice and used to seeing and touching books.

To start out, use board books with no words or just a few words. Point to the colors and the pictures and say their names. Simple books can teach children things that will later help them learn to read. For example, they learn about the structure of language; that there are spaces between the words and that the print goes from left to right.

Tell stories. Encourage your child to ask questions and talk about the story. Ask her to predict what will come next. Point to things in books that she can relate to in her own life. Look at the picture of the penguin. Do you remember the penguin we saw at the zoo?

Look for reading opportunities. If you aren't a good reader, programs in your community provide opportunities for you to improve your own reading and to read with your child. Friends and relatives can also read to your child.

Buy a children's dictionary - if possible, one that has pictures next to the words. Then start the "let's look it up" habit.

Make writing materials available. Watch educational television. Programs such as "Sesame Street" and "Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood" help your child learn the alphabet and the sound they represent.

Visit the library often. Begin making weekly trips to the library when your child is very young. See that your child gets a library card as soon as possible. Many libraries issue cards to children as soon as they can print their names (you'll have to countersign for them).

Read yourself. What you do sets an example for your child.

The ability to read and understand makes for better students and leads to better job opportunities and a lifetime of enjoyment.

Looking back... Many remember Don Adams, who was a local judge in the Glades for many years before his death in the 1980's. Judge Adams is shown here helping to raise money for Glades Day School during a car wash.

Getting parents to wake up

By John D. Cunny
Executive Vice President of Anthem Health President, CEO Acordia Benefits of Florida

New parents have many things to worry about - everything from their baby's teething pain and colic to what brand of formula to buy and where to find a good baby-sitter. Given that we are living in the age of the two-income family, it's easy to understand how some things can get overlooked during the first year of parenthood.

Unfortunately, one of the things that sometimes gets overlooked is childhood immunization.

A recent survey of parents revealed that most parents don't really know which immunization shots their children must have - or when they need to get those shots. More than half didn't realize that their children should be immunized against whopping cough by two months of age.

That's why my company is involved in the nationwide effort to encourage early childhood immunization. It's a fact that our nation can save millions of dollars annually on health care costs by simply seeing to it that our children get the shots they need, when they need them.

Many childhood diseases - some of the worst cripples and killers - can be totally avoided by getting our children vaccinated.

Other studies have found that more than 90 percent of the nation's babies begin receiving their immunizations on schedule. But parents fail to make the necessary return visits for subsequent immunizations. As a result, less than 70 percent of the nation's 2-year-olds have the necessary immunizations.

In Jacksonville, we've found one approach that seems to be working: Project Child in cooperation with University Medical Center, the Kiwanis Clubs of Jacksonville and over 500 volunteers mail cards to parents of new babies. They get a congratulatory card as soon as the baby is born. Then, they receive reminder cards, on each of the baby's major immunizations dates. They also get a birthday card when the baby is one year old. This program seems to be successful in giving parents that extra reminder they need to keep their children properly protected.

Our companies, Anthem Health and Acordia, think this program is so valuable that we're underwriting the costs of the printing of all of these reminder cards. We've also provided outdoor billboards and posters that appear throughout Jacksonville to remind parents about immunization.

And more than that, we're encouraging other companies to get involved in an all-out, statewide effort to help educate parents about the importance of early childhood immunization.

All of us can play a role in this fight to help our nation's children. You could start by showing this article to any new parents you know. They could help by sharing this information with their friends who have young children.

If we all work together, we can help save one of Florida's greatest resources - our children. For further information, contact Ann Blackmer at 317-259-4211.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The future of our country lies in the hands and hearts of our children. Each and every day thousands of women and men nationwide volunteer their time and energy in an effort to ensure that today's youth will be prepared to step into the arena and confidently take their seats as the leaders of tomorrow.

These selfless women and men are Girl Scout leaders. April 22 is Girl Scout Leader's Day, a special day of recognition during National Volunteer Week when Girl Scouts and community members nationwide say "thank you" to the women and men throughout our communities who have made Girl Scouting possible.

For more than 83 years, Girl Scout leaders have been the backbone of this organization, making a difference in the lives of millions of girls each year. Locally, Palm Glades Girl Scout Council serves more than 10,000 girls ages 5-17 throughout a six-and-a-half county area with the untiring help and support of more than 3,500 adult volunteers, of whom more than 1,500 are Girl Scout troop leaders.

On behalf of Palm Glades Girl Scout Council,

I would like to thank you to our Girl Scout leaders and adult volunteers. Thank you for your time, your energy and your efforts. Thank you for reaching out to girls and helping them to reach further still - to pursue their dreams, discover new horizons and take the extra step to be the best they can be. Thank you most of all for being outstanding role models for today's Girl Scouts.

Thank you for taking time out from your busy careers and family life to make a worthwhile investment in our country's future. Through it all you remain true to the Girl Scout mission: To inspire girls to the highest ideals of character, conduct, service and patriotism that they may become happy and resourceful citizens. For this and all you do, we thank you.

Through your continued efforts, Palm Glades Girl Scout Council will continue to build a better tomorrow...one girl at a time.

Happy Girl Scout Leader's Day.

Choosing to kill?

The judge in the murder trial of the Hernandez brothers in Los Angeles is considering ruling that prior abuse can not be entered as defense evidence. His notion of nullifying the "abuse excuse" will no doubt be unpopular among lawyers. After all, they earn more money (getting paid by the hour) by elaborating and pontificating at length, than they do by settling things succinctly and directly. The judge's consideration is based on a very simplistic premise: The Hernandez brothers have admitted to murdering their parents. Insofar as the commission of the acts are not in question, prior abuse allegations should not be considered as evidentiary relevant to the issue of whether or not a murder occurred. Now if it is true that they were abused by their parents, it might indicate why they wanted to murder their parents. It would not however mean that murders did not occur, or that the brothers had no choice other than to murder their parents.

Local show-off attorney Ellis Reuben utilized the "nymphomaniac defense" for his client and avowed prostitute, Kathy Willets. When accused of prostitution, Willets admitted to committing scores of sex acts for pay. Reuben however, claimed that she should not be held responsible for what she did, because she was a "nymphomaniac." That was absurd. Because she supposedly really liked sex a lot, does not mean that she was unwilling, unaware, or "out of control" when she placed ads in newspapers for customers. In fact, she apparently had a longstanding and thriving "business" going. Such evidence hardly supports the notion of a woman "out of control."

Similarly many a murdering or stealing drug addict has claimed, "I couldn't help it. That wasn't me who did that. It was the drugs acting." Similarly, I would claim that physi-

Re-runs 2 opens in Pahokee

A new consignment clothing store has opened at 2720 East Main Street, Pahokee, across from the offices of Richard Heffernan and near Dixie Fried Chicken.

Owner Annie Dady says many people are not aware of what consignment shops are all about. "I'd like to introduce everyone to consignment shopping. It's a great way to get quality merchandise for low prices," she said.

Ms. Dady, who also owns a consignment shop in Okeechobee where she lives, said when she isn't running her businesses, she enjoys shopping at consignment shops herself.

She is formerly from Belle Glade and said she was interested in opening a shop in this area because she loves the business and wants others to enjoy it also.

"You can save over 50 percent on gently used clothing," she said, "and we also have some new clothing at drastically reduced prices."

The store carries casual, every day clothing and dressy clothing and also accepts quality women's clothing for consignment.

In addition to carrying name brands, such as Chaus, Lis Claiborne, Crickét Lane and Impressions, the store offers tuxedo and bridal dress rentals.

"I can get next day service on tuxedos and bridal gowns, but I would hope to have more time than that," said Ms. Dady.

Women's clothing in the store ranges from size 3 to size 24 and includes bathing suits, shoes, belts and purses.

"Most of my merchandise comes from West Palm Beach and from Atlanta," said Ms. Dady, "but I will take local consignments."

The store is open Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and a children's store will be opening in the back part of the building in May. When the children's store opens, Ms. Dady and the children's store owner plan a joint grand opening.

To learn more about consignment shopping, or to offer merchandise, call Ms. Dady at 924-2244.

The staff at Glades General Hospital enjoyed a visit from the Easter Bunny last week. The bunny was courtesy of Averill's Studio and Gifts in Belle Glade.

Local Girl Scouts make trip to Sea World

The Palm Glades Girl Scout Council Brownie Troop Number 944, spent the day at Sea World in Orlando, April 1.

The Brownie Troop had a chance to learn about the rain forests in different parts of the world, including the U.S.

They learned about the importance of the rain forests, how animals, plants and humans depend on and benefit from the growth of the forest.

The learned many ways they can help to preserve and help protect the rain forests.

There were many Girl Scouts, Daisy Scouts, Brownie Scouts, and Boy Scouts from different states in attendance. After their education encounter, the children were given the opportunity to enjoy the many shows at Sea World. Brownie Troop 944 are under the direction of Runterrea Eason, JaVontae Thompson and Courtney Wright. The Brownie Troop and their troop leader are grateful to Men On the Serious Side, (M.O.S.S.) for proving the transportation for the troop.

What will Bubba do? A local contest titled "What will Bubba do?" was sponsored to tell the story of the large-mouth bass in mural on the wall of the Belle Glade Municipal Library. Winners in the contest were given certificates and prizes. Shown, from left, are winners Gilbert Isaac, 11; Romy Pericles, 10; Joanna St. Louis, 10. Back row, left to right, are Jeanette Edmond, 11; Robert Fudge, 17; and Eric Patterson, 18. Not shown are winners Shantana Redden, Ruben Arroyos, and Olivia Arnette. The Norton Art Gallery provided the funding for the mural and the prizes.

Gospel singing

The annual Black Gold Jubilee Gospel Sing will be held Thursday, April 27, at the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade at 7 p.m.

Gospel Chairman Robin Waggoner said this year's sing will be exciting and is starting a half hour early to accommodate all the groups who will be participating. Some of the singers scheduled for this event include, the Glades Central High School Singers, the Sunshine Trio, Julie Taylor, the First Baptist Church

Haitian Choir, Gary Bradshaw, Carol Schmidt, Robin Waggoner and the Glades Day School Glee Club.

The event is open to the community. There is no charge and everyone is invited to attend.

Jubilee '95 parade

The Jubilee parade will have a new route this year, according to Jubilee Chairman Brian Lohmann, due to the road construction in front of Dino's Pizzeria.

The parade will start out at Glades Central Community High School on Saturday, April 22, at 10 a.m. It will proceed up Canal Street to Main Street and then turn right and finish up at the Belle Glade Municipal Library.

There will be bands, twirlers, youth groups, local dignitaries, floats and marching bands. Trophies will be given in several categories and will be presented to the winners on stage at the marina that afternoon.

Horseshoe tournament

This year's horseshoe tournament will be a doubles event. The competition will be held Saturday, April 22, from 1 to 5:30 p.m. and Sunday, April 23, from 1 p.m. until finish.

There will be great prizes, according to Jubilee Chairman Brian Lohmann. Participants must be at least 15 years old to participate and the registration fee is $20 a team for pre-registration or $30 on the day of the event.

To register, call Timmy Kirchman at 996-2033.

Volleyball tournament

The 1995 Black Gold Jubilee Volleyball Tournament will be ongoing the entire Black Gold weekend, so bring a chair or a blanket and enjoy the action.

This year, there will only be one division, the Power Division. Participants must be 14

William T. Murphy II and Leisha Nichols

Leisha Rachel Nichols and William Murphy plan wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Nichols of Belle Glade announce the engagement of their daughter, Leisha Rachel Nichols, to William T. Murphy II of Clewiston.

The prospective groom is the son of William T. Murphy and Wanda Lee Hinton, both of Clewiston.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Christian Day School and Palm Beach Community College. She is employed by the Palm Beach County Tax Collector.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Clewiston High School. He is presently employed as a police officer for the Palm Beach County School Board.

The couple plan an April 29, 1995 wedding to be held at The Miracle Temple Church, 104 S.W. 16th St., Belle Glade, at 6 p.m. All friends and family are invited to attend.

"Whew! That's what teachers and students alike were saying at the completion of their achievement tests last week. A hearty "good job" to all who put forth their best effort on these tests.

Next on the calendar is FIELD DAY! We are looking forward to Georgia Stevens coming to share with us on the topic of "Saying No to Strangers and Drugs". In addition, a sheriff's department k-9 unit will visit, giving a demonstration of their skills. There will be games and we will eat lunch as well, and it happens at the Canal Point Park on May 5. Congratulations to Giancarlo Casali. He is April's "Conqueror" of the Month! Each month the teachers select a student who has exhibited, in an exceptional way, the qualities of a true conqueror - humility, steadfastness, faithfulness to the task, and a servant spirit. Giancarlo is in Mrs. Esparza's first grade class and this is his first year at Lake Country. Keep up the good work Giancarlo!

We are all excited about having the fifth and sixth grades next year, and are grateful to First Baptist of Pahokee for its continued vision for Christian education in the Glades.

All interested parents are encouraged to call Tanya Willis at 924-7183, or stop by the school at 825 Bacom Point Road, Pahokee.

Remember, there is a $50 discount for all who register before June 1.

Rosenwald students attend Special Arts Day

Fun! Fun! Fun! The ESE Department at Rosenwald Elementary took about 50 students from the SLD full and part time, EH, EMH and speech classes to the Very Special Arts Day. The experiences they had could be summed up in one big word: FUN! The event was held at the School of the Arts in West Palm Beach. The group of students, teachers and assistants were welcomed by Machel Boone (a former RES student and daughter of first grade teacher, Rosie Boone).

The EMH group participated in the event with a dance performance. The group were divided and took part in workshops such as making festival masks, decorating cookies, bandana decoration, golf ball art, learning the signing alphabet, signing a song and their names, TAN-GRAM.

The speech students enjoyed performances in the Black Box Theatre hosted by Robert Gibbons, a School of the Arts instructor (another product and former speech student of whom Mrs. Radcliff is quite proud).

They were favored with original poetry by Mr. Gibbons, student performances of skits, poems/monologues, pantomime, and a comedic look at the acting process.

After such a round of activities, students were then taken to the courtyard for lunch and outdoor activities as a finale to a wonderful day.

The 1995-96 presentation of the School Improvement Plan was held Monday, April 17, in the school's cafeteria at 6:30 p.m.

The Advisory Board of the HIPPY Program held its meeting at RES starting with a scrumptious breakfast served to the board. Six of the HIPPY children decked out in HIPPY T-shirts greeted and escorted attendees to the media center. Coordinator Lorrie Moore presented progress of the program in South Bay. Photos of all 46 families and their children were presented. Parent educators Olga Ledesman, Mary Johnson, and Cylenthia Mann presented highlights of activities of the families they work with.

Twenty of Rosenwald's finest were taken to Dolly Hand to see the Boys Choir of Harlem by the principal, thanks to a donation that was received.

Students from the school's Girl Scout Troop enjoyed a weekend of camping at the campsite in Jupiter, thanks to one of the troop leaders, Barbara Tyler.

AIDS Coalition plans April 22 banquet

The AIDS Coalition of the Glades will host its eighth banquet on Saturday, April 22, at 6:30 p.m. at The Drawbridge Cafe, 3300 West Lake Rd., Belle Glade.

The speaker for the event will be Rev. Patricia S. Wallace, youth church pastor of St. James AME Church, Pahokee.

The Sunshine Trio of Pahokee, along with other soloists, will entertain with songs.

Banquet tickets are $15 and may be purchased from any AIDS Coalition member. For further information regarding the banquet, please contact Sandra Daniel, president, at 996-1600.

Obituary

Thomas

Elna F. Thomas, 77, of Belle Glade, died Friday, April 7, 1995, at her residence. Mrs. Thomas was a mother and a homemaker. She was also a member of the First Baptist Church, Keen Kids, and other church groups.

She is survived by her son, Robert T. Thomas, and his wife, Sue; grandchildren: Melissa and Tyler; sister, Lene Hutz; and, many friends. Services were held Monday, April 10, 1995, at First Baptist Church of Belle Glade. Interment was held at Hillcrest Memorial Park, West Palm Beach.

Arrangements were under the direction of Mixson Funeral Home.

Cooksey

Maida Harrington Cooksey died Monday, April 17, 1995, in Monticello. Born in Pahokee, Mrs. Cooksey had lived in Canal Point for many years before moving to Monticello.

She is survived locally by two sisters-in-law: Veronica Harrington of Pahokee; and, June Harrington of Canal Point.

Services will be held Thursday, April 20, at 11 a.m. at the Methodist Church in Monticello.

Arrangements are under the direction of Beggs Funeral Home, Monticello.

Military News

Bell

Marine Pvt. Maxie O. Bell, son of Mary R. Bell of Belle Glade, recently graduated from the Financial Management course at the Marine Corps Service Support school located at Marine Corps Base Camp

Lajeune, N.C.

Bell completed 31 days of instruction on finance and budgeting and was recognized for his achievement during the course. Upon graduation, Bell will have received basic training in computers, Marine Corps accounting procedures, budget formulation and funding control methods.

Bell also received hands-on training on accounting techniques which focused on Fleet Marine Force use.

Even as the military services get smaller over the next few years, highly motivated-mwn and women like Bell are still finding an opportunity to improve their knowledge and skill as part of the most highly technical naval force in history.

Bell is a 1994 graduate of Glades Central High School.

Moulton

Marine Lance Cpl. Joseph M. Moulton, a 1992 graduate of Glades Central High School, was recently promoted to his present rank while serving with the 1st Battalion 11th Marines, 1st Marine Division, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Moulton joined the Marine Corps in February 1994.

Remembrances

If you would like to share the memory of a friend or loved one whose obituary has appeared in the The Sun newspaper within the last two weeks, please send us your piece for possible publication in the Remembrance column that appears on this page.

Mail your special story about this person to Tammy Jackson, Staff Reporter, P.O. Box 2226, Belle Glade, FL 33430.

A Remembrance article should give the community a glimpse of the person's life and through a particular anecdote or memory, share the qualities that made that person special.

Remembrance articles should be no longer than two typewritten pages and include the author's full name, address, relationship to the deceased, and a daytime telephone number.

Buchanan chosen as Orientation Week Leader

Beth Lynn Buchanan, a freshman Elementary Education major from Belle Glade was recently chosen as an Orientation Week Leader at Florida Southern College.

Beth is the daughter of Kenneth and Rosemary Buchanan. She is a graduate of Glades Central Community High School.

Rites for Grace Strayer to be held today

Funeral services for Grace Strayer will be held Thursday, April 20, 1995, at Canal Point Baptist Church. Mrs. Strayer, a resident of Canal Point, was 78 years old.

Arrangements are under the direction of the James A. Bennett Funeral Home.

Glades Day School students in grades seventh through 11th may be walking in a daze and muttering to themselves this week, but there's no need for parents to be alarmed. They're just recuperating from taking their annual standardized achievement tests. These exams are administered yearly to help give parents and students an idea on how they compare academically in the national percentile. To help make it easier for their students, the tests were only given during the morning hours Monday through Thursday.

Ask any sophomore to give you a hand and they will proudly show off the one with their new class rings sporting the Class of '97. Ordered from Herff Jones in January, the rings arrived last week just after the Spring Break holidays. Speaking of holidays, the Class of '96 received a special treat with a Senior Skip Day granted by the administration. The seniors were allowed to do whatever they pleased on Monday, April 17. You can be sure none of them showed up at school.

If you've heard any familiar voices on the WBGF-WSWN radio station lately, it could be Glades Day's own students doing their part for the community. Coordinated by station manager Phil Haire, the students are reading public service announcements touting the dangers of drugs and alcohol. The voices you hear are those of Hana'a Barhoush, Naty Garcia, Amy Jo Hutton, Parker Altman and Rhied White.

Glades Day School's football coaches are sponsoring a 3 on 3 "Nothin' but Net" basketball tournament on May 13 at the West Campus gym. There will be four divisions for males and females ages 8-11, 12-14, 15-high school senior, and an open division for faculty, alumni and any other adults who would like to compete.

The entry fee is $35 per team and all applications must be turned in by Saturday, May 6. Applications are available in the school offices.

Glades Day School congratulates Emily Cavine, who won the Miss Wellington pageant last weekend. Emily, a junior at GDS, is the daughter of Kenny and Darlene Cavine, former residents of Belle Glade.

GDS also sends out special wishes to eighth grader Christina Lockhart, who was seriously injured in an auto accident last week, along with her mother, Mary, and step-father, Jim Douglas. Christina, a varsity softball player who also played volleyball and basketball, and her stepdad are in St. Mary's Hospital. Our thoughts and prayers are with you!

Members of the Canal Point United Methodist Church presented the "Last Living Supper" last Thursday at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center. Various members of the congregation participated by working as supervisors, performers, and wardrobe coordinators.

"The Last Living Supper" depicts events prior to Jesus' death

The Canal Point United Methodist Church presented "The Living Last Supper" Thursday, April 13, at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center. The presentation depicted the events that occurred just prior to Jesus' death, leading to His resurrection (Easter).

The portrayal was centered around Jesus' words, "One of you will betray me."

Frances Wilson Adams presented the prelude for the evening, followed by the welcome which was brought by Rev. Jackie McMillan, Canal Point United Methodist Church.

Carol Schmidt and Carol Peaden each performed "Gentle Shepherd" and "Come Let Us Break Bread" respectively.

Rev. McMillan then came before the audience again with "A Time to Remember," followed by the selection "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked" by Milton Carpenter.

Persons performing for the event were: Bill Blackwell, Jesus; Joe Spangler, Nathaniel; Robert Maxwell, Matthew; Tommy Yates, James the Elder; Ken Lutz, James; Eustis Blackwell, Andrew; Dennis Wagner, Judas; Brian Lohmann, Philip; Chuck Blackburn, Thaddaeus; Wayne Sears, John; Don McMillan, Sim; The Zealot; and, Rod Rudy, Peter.

Set supervisors for the event were Diane Wagner, Tom Pierson, Karen Pierson, Mary Alma Stevenson and Brian Watson.

The wardrobe coordinators were Lillian Blackburn, Peggy Frank, Nancy Maxwell and Glenn Campbell.

ological or psychological addiction to a drug might mean you can't help the craving feeling you have inside. A person always however, has the choice and therefore the responsibility, to avoid doing bad things. Someone who would commit a murder "for drugs," probably would commit murder for other reasons equally as pathetic and selfish.

As a psychologist, I am offended when attorney's introduce pseudo-psychological notions as if they were undisputed scientific fact. A person's experiences and current relationships can cause feelings or attitudes to arise in you that you can't control. You can always control, however, your behaviors. You might not be able to alter your motivations, or the thoughts that pop into your head under stress. You can always control, however, your behaviors. I say this twice, because I recognize that this statement might incur aggressive dissent from fellow psychologists and psychiatrists. Some make a lot of money as "expert witnesses." My issue however, is that the notion of control and human choice is a moral one. It is not one that science can ever decide. Typically, scientists only report what they can see or measure. Golf Classic to benefit Boys & Girls Club

Pepsi presents the sixth annual Boys & Girls Clubs/Schumacher Buick-Oldsmobile Celebrity Golf Classic benefitting the Boys & Girls Clubs of Palm Beach County on Saturday, May 13. Sponsored by WPTV Channel 5 and Sunny 104.3, among others, the event takes place on two championship courses at PGA National Golf Course in Palm Beach Gardens. Prizes will be awarded courtesy Tourneau, USAir, and Whirlpool.

First responding three-somes will be paired with a celebrity. Foursomes may also register. Tournament fee is $200 per person which includes an auction party Friday night (May 12), greens and cart fee, breakfast, a tournament T-shirt, drinks and food on the course, prizes, lunch, and a gift bag.

Local celebrity Pat Murphy is the event host; cohosts are pro football stars Anthony Carter and Jeff Dellenbach.

For reservations or more information, please call (407) 683-3287.

Dr. Boltson — Continued from Page 13

a person's responsibility. You can impute it or demand it, but you can not prove it. Personally, I think it is important, that as a society, we presume that people are responsible for the acts they commit. This presumption creates a moral pressure that sets the standards that many people choose to act by. When people violate moral codes, it is important that society step in and take (sometimes punitive) action that reaffirms the moral code. If not, then a society will arise, where there is not a strongly mandated moral code. In such a society, murder will be tolerated, and even accepted. As such, more murders will occur.

That social experiment has occurred, and its locations is the United States of America. In areas where there are not consistent social sanctions against harmful acts, more and more offenses will occur (such as in South Florida).

So I contend that lawyers cause societal harm when they irresponsibly bandy about scientific and moral issues. No one has ever claimed that knowledge of science or a deeply abiding sense of morality are necessary to be a successful lawyer.

When lawyers, or anyone else, suggest that people should not be held accountable for the acts they commit, then more people will pick up on this message, and as a whole, more people will behave irresponsibly.

We're never made as ridiculous through the qualities we have as through those we pretend to.

—La Rochefoucauld

DENTAL SEALANTS

Dental sealants are like an extra layer of protection against cavities. Four out of five cavities in children under fifteen occur on the back teeth biting surfaces. A dental sealant is a plastic material that is either clear or shaded, that is painted on the back teeth chewing surfaces, filling in the grooves, pits, and fissures. Dental sealants should last several years and cost considerably less than fillings or dental composite restorations. By having dental sealants applied to the back teeth, the grooves, pits, and fissures are smoothly covered so there is less chance of cavity-causing microorganisms invading the tooth's outer layer (the enamel). Dental sealants are relatively new, so be sure to ask our office if sealants would be right for your child. Dental sealants can be applied as early as age six, when the first permanent molars erupt. The application is quick and painless, reducing the need of tooth restoration and cavities for your child's beautiful smile.

A smile should last a lifetime.

Mayor's welcome

The Black Gold Jubilee Committee has put incalculable hours into the planning of this year's festival. A lot of hard work and thought has gone into this process and I want to thank them for the efforts they have put forward. Without their dedication and love for this community none of this would have been possible.

This year's theme "Hometown Paradise" truly reflects the spirit of the Glades. We are the "Winter Vegetable Capitol of the World" and we are the largest producers of sugar in the nation. But a much more important commodity, which we produce, are the finest people you can ever hope to meet. This is what makes it a "Hometown Paradise, people who are willing to help neighbor as well as stranger, who become involved when there is a call to help.

Where giving the shirt off of one's back is not a cliché, but a fact. Where a spirit of cooperation and teamwork are the norm, not the oddity.

This is a community that we are proud of and we welcome you, who are visitors, to our city and we wish your stay enjoyable, and your return soon.

Again, on behalf of the city commission, I welcome you to this year's Black Gold Jubilee and thank the committee for the unflagging and energetic program they have put forward.

Stephen J. Weeks
Mayor of Belle Glade

Chairman's welcome

Welcome to the 17th annual Black Gold Jubilee. This year, the Black Gold Committee has worked extremely hard. We have listened to your suggestions, and made changes that hopefully will make our Jubilee even more enjoyable.

Because Black Gold Jubilee offers something for everyone, we are sure that you will find an activity that is right for you.

This year's theme, "Our Hometown Paradise," truly reflects the attitude our residents have toward their community.

We in the Glades are especially proud of our people and our natural resources.

Come out and join the fun!!

Committed to an outstanding festival... Members of the 1995 Black Gold Festival started preparations for this festival soon after the completion of last year's festival. While Benton Tyson was preparing for the children's fishing tournament, Krista Carter was doing all she could to assure the members of the community that the parade would be a success. Also, Brenda Prescott worked doubly-hard to please the community with the tennis tournament, however, Jeff Threlkeld vows to make the 5K Walk/Run successful. Robin Waggoner is dedicated to the success of the Gospel Sing, and Mike Underwood, Michell Wilkinson and all of the members of the committee have gotten together for many hours, days, nights and weekends to make sure the '95 Black Gold Jubilee is the best Belle Glade has ever seen.

City holds annual event to honor residents and celebrate end of harvest season

Originated and named in 1978, Black Gold Jubilee was created to celebrate Belle Glade's local culture, talent and resources.

The annual event is always scheduled as close as possible to the city's April 9, 1928 incorporation date. Although many changes have been made in the Jubilee since Mayor Thomas Altman spearheaded its inception, it remains one of the best family-oriented and entertaining celebrations in the Glades.

As in past festivals, Jubilee '95 has enjoyed avid support from the city commission.

The Jubilee serves as a time to honor some of the area's longtime residents for their donations of time and talent to their hometown. The Sun newspaper invites the public to join them in this very special observation.

Belle Glade is the largest city within the 2,862,000-acre sub-tropical Everglades in the heartland of Florida. Originally known as Hillsboro, Belle Glade was incorporated in 1928 with a population of less than 500.

The earliest known habitants of the Belle Glade area were the Calusa Indians. Their prehistoric habitation and burial mounds are located just west of Belle Glade in Chosen which is known by many as the "Indian Mound". These sites were excavated by the Smithsonian Institution during the early 1930s and later by archeologists from the Florida State Museum in Gainesville.

The Seminole Indian generally associated with this part of Florida are descendants of tribes from Georgia and Alabama who moved further and further south as white men pushed for expansion and development of lands. It was the Seminole who gave the region the name

"Okeechobeland", meaning - Land of Big Water.

One of the colorful versions of concerning the name of Belle Glade tells that a black-board was placed in a hotel lobby where suggestions could be written on the board. The suggestions receiving the most votes was that it should be called Belle Glade since the settlement was "the belle of the Glades."

The Hillsboro Community Council was formed in 1919 and operated as the town's governing body until its council was directly responsible for the location here of the Everglades Experiment Station, a University of Florida agricultural research and experiment station. The center's name was recently changed to Agricultural Research and Education Center.

On Sept. 16, 1928, a storm more devastating than any other predecessor blew in from the east coast and left monumental destruction. Approximately 2,500 people perished in the hurricane. Today a statue commemorates those who died.

The loss of life caused by the storm brought attention to the need for Lake Okeechobee flood control and the Herbert Hoover Dike, approximately 85 miles of levee was built.

Good Things Growing

The Holmes Brothers bring variety of music to 1995 festival goers

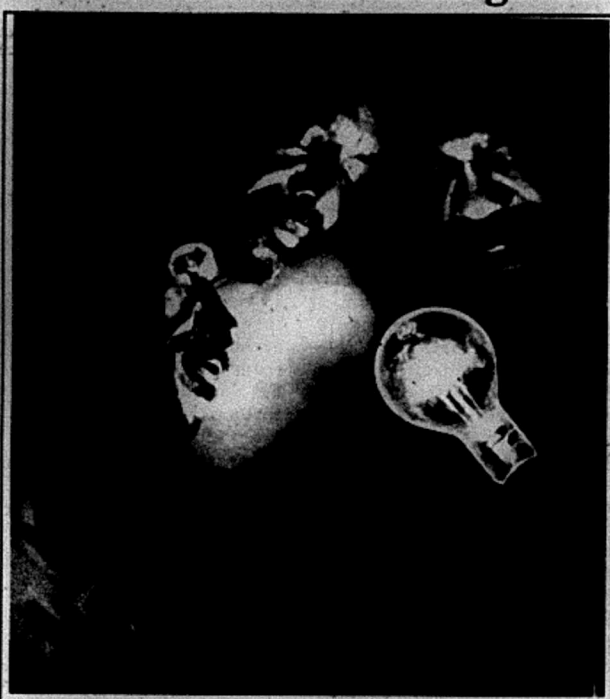

It has been said that soul music came into being when gospel took a walk down the aisle with the blues. The marriage of these two musical idioms finds perfect expression in the music of The Holmes Brothers, a unique blend of blues, gospel, soul, R&B, and country that "suggests holiness but breathes the late night juke joint air" (Philadelphia Inquirer). Their 1989 debut album, In the Spirit (Rounds), received rave reviews across the country and went on to win the French Académie du Jazz Prix Big Joe Turner for the Best Rhythm and Blues Album of the Year. The New York Times pronounced it "one of the best blues albums of the year," the Boston Herald proclaimed, "Mind-blowing... a true find."

The sudden tidal wave of critical acclaim for the Holmes Brothers debut album has had a ripple effect which is still reverberating, enabling the band to tour worldwide, appear on nationwide TV on Late Night with David Letterman in the U.S. They've also appeared in Germany, Japan and England. Pictorial spreads of the Holmes Brothers appeared in Newsweek and Rolling Stone, and rave reviews cropped up everywhere from major U.S. dailies like the New York Times, Washington Post, Philadelphia Enquirer and the San Francisco Examiner.

Heralded as the greatest blues "find" in recent memory, the Holmes Brothers have never exactly been lost. They have, however, been "discovered" - just 30 years after leaving their home town of Christchurch, Va., for the bright lights of New York and just 11 years after Sherman Holmes, his younger brother, Wendell Holmes, and another transplanted Virginian, Willie "Popey" Dixon, started playing blues bars around New York as the Holmes Brothers. When Rounder Records approached the group, the Holmes Brothers hadn't been seeking a recording contract. "We never really looked for that kind of recognition," says Sherman. "We were just happy to be playing, period." They developed a sound that is at once unique and yet clearly displays its blues and gospel roots. Even more compelling than the band's superb instrumental work are the three-part harmony vocals. The Holmes Brothers are a rarity, a soul harmony group where the three singers are also simultaneously their own backup band.

How has all this touring and success affected the Holmes Brothers? If anything, their performances have grown in their focus and intensity. It's all a testament to 30 years of persistence, of a perspective that has enabled them to approach each performance with the enthusiasm and abandon that might be expected of a band half their age. "The fact that they are able to make a living making music is the most important thing for both me and them," said the group's producer Andy Breslau. "Machinist, construction worker, computer data entry - they were doing everything... that is what they do best."

The Holmes Brothers will entertain the audiences at the festival when they harmonize a mix of the blues, R&B, and soul music. The group also performs gospel and country tunes, and they have received rave concert reviews.

Chamblee family named Farm Family of the Year

Several generations of the Chamblee family accepted the Farm Family of the Year honor at the annual Farm Bureau Banquet held Sept. 8, 1994. They were chosen for their involvement in agriculture in the Glades.

The family's great-grandfather, James

Hubert "Hubie" Chamblee, along with the father and grandfather, came to Palm Beach County from Anderson, S.C. in 1926 to work for the Palm Beach County Road Department.

Pioneer Hubie Chamblee helped the Glades recover from the 1928 Hurricane. Mr. Chamblee was a patch farmer in those days, farming pieces of land which weren't under water. He raised vegetables and cattle and in the early 1950s, he helped establish Pioneer Growers Cooperative.

Mr. Chamblee died in 1953 and his wife, Eunice, along with her brother, Cecil McClure, continued the farming operation.

Mrs. Chamblee died in 1979.

The Chamblees had four children: two girls and two boys, who continued to live in Belle Glade and are involved in agriculture and other professions which contribute to the quality of life in the Glades.

James Chamblee farms in the Glades and his wife, Sandra, is active in community.

Lynn (Chamblee) Anderson is a hairdresser in Belle Glade and her husband, Bill, works for Florida Power and Light Company.

Patsy (Chamblee) Stevens and her husband, Freddie, also live in Belle Glade. Mr. Stevens is a teacher at Palm Beach Community College and Glades Day School. Mrs. Stevens is a former teacher at Belle Glade Elementary and Christian Day School.

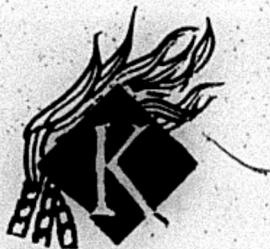

John David Chamblee is a local farmer, and his wife, Joyce, is a school teacher.

James and Janet (Chamblee) Jacks also reside in Belle Glade.

The Farmer

He was but a seedling when he came to the Glades, but after placing his feet into the rich soil and being tended and cared for he grew strong with a love of the land that was stronger than any thing he had ever felt.

He decided to devote his life to caring and sharing, to spend sleepless hours worrying and wondering. His days were spent hoeing, weeding, planting, watering and caring for his crops.

As he grows tired and weary from years of labor, he takes a look at the beautiful sunset as it caresses his fields and he knows that his life has been a meaningful, prosperous life.

Because he has taken the time to give the land back the love that it had given him and they have grown strong together.

Harvest Queen Pageant attracts area young ladies

Heather Jane Evans

Heather is a 12th grade student at Glades Day School. The daughter of John Evans and Teresa Sullivan, Heather is 18 years old and is 5'9" tall. With brown eyes and brown hair, Heather said she enjoyed participating in the pageant last year, therefore, she opted to participate again. She enjoys playing the piano, reading, and spending time with her friends and family.

She is the class president, a member of the Student Council, a Glee Club member, a member of the varsity basketball team, a member of the tennis team, and a member of the cheerleading squad. Heather plans to attend either Emory of Vanderbilt University and major in Biology. About her home town, she said, "Belle Glade is a great place to call home."

Sarah Jane Willis

The daughter of Ivan and Jane Willis, Sarah has blue eyes and blonde hair. At 5'9" tall, the 17-year-old 12th grader enjoys going to the beach with her friends, playing the trumpet, bike riding, and riding wave runners on the lake. She decided to participate in the pageant this year because she thought it would be fun to do it with her friends. She is a member of the cheerleading squad, the band, treasurer of the Student Council, vice president of her class, and a member of the National Honor Society. She also tutors. Following graduation, Sarah plans to attend Florida State University to pursue a degree in Psychology. She said, "Belle Glade is a real friendly place to grow up. I love the Glades." The GDS student is the daughter of Ivan and Jane Willis.

Hana'a Barhoush

Entering the pageant because she felt it would be a great experience, 17-year-old Hana'a is a senior at Glades Day School. At 5'7", she has olive skin and brown eyes, and she is president of the Student Council, and a member of the volleyball, basketball and tennis teams. After graduating from GDS, Hana'a plans to attend Cornell University and major in Hotel Administration. She said, "The Glades is a wonderful place to grow up in because one always has a sense of security." Hana'a is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ahmed Barhoush.

Christy Lynn Moore

A sophomore at Palm Beach Community College, Christy is the daughter of Pete and Mary Alice Moore. She's 21 years old and stands 5'10" tall. She has hazel eyes and brunette hair with light brown highlights. Christy voluntarily works with young girls who have been abused. She is dedicated to showing the young girls that the need self-confidence to become winners at whatever they do. In her spare time, she enjoys scuba diving, and she says school has also become a hobby of hers. She is state president of the Delta Epsilon Chi, chapter president of the Phi Theta Kappa, and a member of the Inter Club Council. She plans to attend the graduate programs at Florida State University and obtain a double major in Psychology and Marketing. She wishes to minor in Communications, however, she said she eventually wants to obtain a Doctorate degree in Psychology. She said, "The first part of my life was spent in a larger city where business took precedence. Since I have moved to the Glades, I realize there are friendly, caring people left in this world." She continued, "Once you put your feet in the muck, you're happily stuck!"

Tara Marnae Kohr

At 5'7", Tara attends Glades Day School where she is in the 11th grade. The 16 year old said she entered the competition for the experience. The green-eyed, brown-haired contestant enjoys hanging with her friends, shopping, going to the beach, and spending time with friends and family members. She's a member of the National Honor Society, Gator Glee Club, Student Council, varsity basketball team, and football cheerleader. She plans to attend the University of Central Florida and obtain a degree in Child Psychology. "I feel Belle Glade is a wonderful town to have grown up in because the people are so friendly," said Tara.

Tara Jenn'e York

The daughter of Mike and Twila York, Tara, 16, stands 5'2" tall. She is a junior at Glades Day School. She has green eyes and blonde hair, and she said she decided to participate in the pageant because friends had told her it was a good experience and a lot of fun. She enjoys gymnastics, aerobics, going to the beach, and spending time with friends and family. She is captain of the varsity basketball team, secretary of the Student Council, a member of the National Honor Society, Glee Club member, and a member of the prom committee.

Tara hopes to attend the University of Florida and obtain a degree in Child Psychology. She said, "I love living in Belle Glade because it's a very close-knit town and everyone is always there for each other."

Jessica Lynn Crawford

Jessica, 17, decided to enter the contest this year because she said she had a "blast" last year. The 5'6" senior at Glades Day School enjoys roller blading, taking long walks, tennis, and spending time with friends and family. With blue eyes and blonde hair, Jessica is the captain of the football cheerleading squad, a Glee Club member, and a member of the school's play. She plans to attend Palm Beach Community College for at least one semester and then transfer to the University of Florida, Gainesville. Pertaining to the Glades, she Jessica said, "I love it and I have always lived here."

Andrea Lynn Marotta

The daughter of Ralph and Andrea Marotta, Andrea is an 11th-grade student at Clewiston High School. The 16-year-old contestant also attends Palm Beach Community College. At 5'8", with blue eyes and blonde hair, Andrea entered the pageant because she said her family and friends encouraged her to do so.

Contestants

SUPPLEMENT TO THE SUN- Thursday, April 20, 1995- 17

She enjoys walking, bike riding, and softball. She has been a cheerleader for eight years, and she volunteers her time by coaching pop Warner cheerleading squads. She is presently listed in the top 12 percent of the junior class, and she's listed among Who's Who in American High Schools. After graduation, Andrea plans to obtain an AA degree from PBCC and transfer to University of Central Florida and major in Chemical Engineering or Communications. Referring to the Glades, Andrea said, "I am very interested in the future of the Glades area. All communities around the lake must stand united to survive the negativity that is often broadcasted by outsiders, and I believe we can do it. We must stand together to show others why our area is so rich, not only in soil or monetary amounts, but how our people are full of pride, love and support in the communities of the Glades."

Silvia Corona

A 12th-grade student at Glades Day School, Silvia stands 5'2" tall. She has brown hair and brown eyes and she said she entered the pageant because she felt a need to involve herself in the community. The 18 year old enjoys spending time with friends, going to the beach and shopping. She is a member of the Gator Glee Club and the Journalism staff. Following graduation, Silvia plans to attend the University of Texas and study Computer Programming. Silvia said, "I was born and raised in Pahokee and since the towns (Belle Glade and Pahokee) are so small, I can really get to know everyone. I wouldn't want to be raised anywhere else." Silvia is the daughter of Silvestre and Maria Corona.

Emily Michelle Cavinee

With brown eyes and brown hair, Emily, 16, is the daughter of Kenny and Darlene Cavinee. The 11th-grade student at Glades Day School is 5'5", and she entered the pageant because she said her sister is a previous Harvest Queen and she too would want her younger sister to follow in her footsteps. Emily enjoys singing and spending time with friends and family. She is a varsity basketball cheerleader, football statistician, a member of the prom committee, and secretary of her class. Emily says, "I love the bond and closeness between everyone, knowing there's always someone that cares everywhere you go."

Bridget Lynn Hurley

An 11th-grade student at Glades Day School, Bridget is the daughter of Albert and Barbara Hurley. The 16-year-old said she entered the contest "just for fun". With blue eyes and blonde hair, Bridget enjoys going to the beach and having fun with her friends. She is a cheerleader and a member of the Glee Club. Undecided about career goals, Bridget said she will attend college after she graduates. The 5'5" contestant is a resident of Loxahatchee but she said, "I like the Glades because it's small and everyone knows everyone and it's a little world of its own."

Siobhan Saake

The daughter of Robert and Susan Saake, Siobhan is a resident of Wellington and an 11th-grade student at Glades Day School. The 5'10" contestant is 17 years old and a member of the school's Glee Club. She has brown hair and brown eyes and she decided to enter the Harvest Queen Pageant because she thought it would be a fun experience. Siobhan enjoys going to the beach and having fun with friends. Following graduation, she plans to go to college and study Marine Biology. She said, "I like the Glades because the people are really friendly. When I started going to school here, I was welcomed by everyone."

Homer J. Hand will be Parade Grand Marshall

Homer J. Hand, Belle Glade's 1994 Citizen of the Year, will lead off the 1995 Black Gold Jubilee Parade as Grand Joseph Orsenigo, who said Mr. Hand was a real asset to the Glades.

The Jubilee parade will have a new route this year, according to Jubilee Chairman Brian Lohmann, due to the road construction in front of Dino's Pizza.

The parade will start out at Glades Central Community High School on Saturday, April 22 at 10 a.m. It will proceed up Canal Street to Main Street and then turn right and finish up at the Belle Glade Municipal Library.

There will be bands, twirlers, youth groups, local dignitaries, floats and marching bands. Trophies will be given in several categories and will be presented to the winners on stage at the marina that afternoon.

Marshall. Mr. Hand was chosen the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce's Citizen of the Year at ceremonies held in October of last year.

He was presented the coveted award by his long-time friend Dr.

Black Gold's Fishing and Casting Contest draws almost 150 children

The winners in the Children's Fishing and Casting Contest held April 8 were: toddlers division, ages 0 to 5 years, total weight, first place, Caleb Duf, with his 2.45 pound catfish which also won him first place for the biggest fish in his division; second place was Jordan Hawkins, with 2.40 total pounds; third place went to Joshua Huston with 1.80 pounds. The smallest fish trophy was a tie between Brandon Gay and Tiffany Lopez. Both had tiny fish weighing only .05 pounds.

In the 6 to 8-year-old division, Isabel Gonzalez won first place in the total weight division, with 1.30 pounds; second place went to Jason Lewis with 1.15 pounds and there was a tie between Shelby Markham and Aaron Waldon with each having 1.05 total weight; Isabel Gonzalez also won for biggest fish with .70 pounds and Aaron Waldon won the smallest fish prize with a fish that wouldn't even register on the scales.

In the 9 to 12-year-old division, first place for total weight went to Casey Underwood with 4.80 pounds; second place went to Daniel Gonzalez with 1.95 pound and third place to Christa Stein with 1.30 pounds. Casey Underwood took the prize for the biggest fish in his division and Stephanie Moody the smallest.

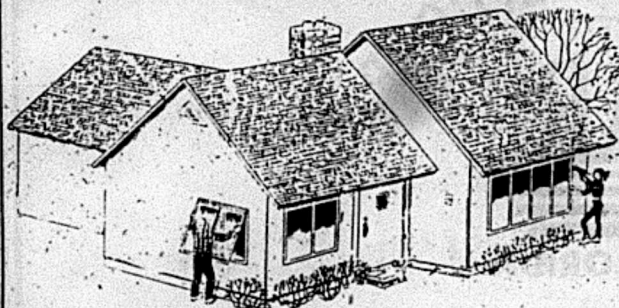

In the 12-13 year-old division, Stephanie Stein won first place in the total weight with 4.45 pounds; Randy Worth, second with 4.20 pounds; and Larry Coonfare took third place with 1.40 pounds. Randy Worth won both the biggest and the smallest fish trophies with a 2.40 pound fish and a .15 pound fish.

Did you know?

The Black Gold Jubilee was named by the late J.V. McLeod in 1978 during a contest sponsored by the City of Belle Glade.

"Black Gold" refers to the rich, organic soil in the Glades which makes for a bountiful harvest each year. Here's wishing you a fun-filled 1995 Black Gold Jubilee.

Gospel sing

The annual Black Gold Jubilee Gospel Sing will be held Thursday, April 27, at the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade at 7 p.m.

Gospel Chairman Robin Waggoner said this year's sing will be exciting and is starting a half hour early to accommodate all the groups who will be participating. Some of the sings scheduled for this event include, the Glades Central High School Singing Raiders, the Sonshine Trio, Julie Taylor, the First Baptist Church Haitian Choir, Gary Bradshaw, Carol Schmidt, Robin Waggoner and the Glades Day School Glee Club.

There is no charge and everyone is invited to attend.

Jubilee '95 parade

The Jubilee parade will have a new route this year, according to Jubilee Chairman Brian Lohmann, due to the road construction in front of Dino's Pizza.

The parade will start out at Glades Central Community High School on Saturday, April 22 at 10 a.m. It will proceed up Canal Street to Main Street and then turn right and finish up at the Belle Glade Municipal Library.

There will be bands, twirlers, youth groups, local dignitaries, floats and marching bands. Trophies will be given in several categories and will be presented to the winners on stage at the marina that afternoon.

Horseshoe tournament

This year's horseshoe tournament will be a doubles event. The competition will be held Saturday, April 22, from 1 to 5:30 p.m. and Sunday, April 23, from 1 p.m. until finish. There will be great prizes, according to Jubilee Chairman Brian Lohmann.

Participants must be at least 15 years old to participate and the registration fee is $20 a team for pre-registration or $30 on the day of the event. To register, call Timmy Kirchman at 996-2033.

Volleyball tournament

The 1995 Black Gold Jubilee Volleyball Tournament will be ongoing the entire Black Gold weekend, so bring a chair or a blanket and enjoy the action.

This year, there will only be one division, the Power Division. Participants must be 14 years or older to play and the cost per team is $75. That fee pays for the entry fee, a volleyball t-shirt for each player, and prizes for the first, second, and third place teams. Once again, the t-shirts are compliments of Sugarcane Growers Cooperative of Florida.
